XMH bags two contracts with total worth of approximately S$2.8 million from Indonesian ship owner

- To supply marine diesel engines, gearboxes and e-Gen power generating sets to recurring customer
- e-Gen is an in-house brand for marine and industrial power generating set
- Total order book value stands at a healthy level of approximately S$76 million

Singapore, 18 February 2013 – XMH Holdings Ltd., (“XMH”, “新明华控股” or the “Group”), a diesel engine, propulsion and power generating solution provider in the marine and industrial sectors, is pleased to announce that the Group has secured two contracts from one Indonesian ship owner with a total worth of approximately S$2.8 million.

The recurring customer has placed an order for brand new Mitsubishi marine diesel engines with gearboxes and another order for e-Gen power generating sets worth approximately S$2.8 million. The marine diesel engines, gearboxes and power generating sets will be installed on tug boats and the delivery of the orders will be fulfilled by FY2014. With these contract wins, the total order book value of the Group is currently at approximately S$76 million.

On the contract win and healthy order book, Mr. Elvin Tan Tin Yeow, Chairman and CEO, commented,

“We are pleased to have won the contracts from one of our recurring customer as this is a testament to our ability to forge strong customer relationships and generate repeat sales with our strong after-sales support and value-added solutions.

e-Gen is an in-house brand for marine and industrial power generating solution package offered by us in both standard and customized packages to cater to the needs of customers. The e-Gen is a culmination of our comprehensive product range, extensive product knowledge and strong technical know-how accumulated over the years.

Our total order book stands at a healthy level which mostly will be digested by FY2014. We look forward to successfully delivering the order book at hand while continuously working towards adding more contracts.”
